Starting a company is lonely.

You have to make difficult decisions every day with imperfect information on problems you’ve likely never faced before. It’s daunting.

In our experience, the best way to overcome the challenges is to learn from the wins and mistakes of others, and to surround yourself with founders who’ve been there, done that.

Whether you’re in the thick of it in New York City or San Francisco, or you’re a SaaS founder in Iowa, finding your people is tough.

But when you do find them, it’s life changing.

And that’s what Hampton is for.

Joining Hampton gives you immediate access to a tribe of founders and entrepreneurs who are going through the same things as you. Members consistently call it “life changing”.
